FUNERAL SERVICE

Over Remains Of Sam Jones at Cartersville

Conducted By Bishop Galloway Before Large Assemblage.

Cartersville, Ga., Oct. 18.—In the presence of a large congregation, impressive funeral services were held this afternoon over the remains of the Rev. Sam P. Jones, the evangelist, in the Sam Jones Tabernacle here. Bishop C. M. Galloway, of Mississippi, presided, and was assisted by many prominent ministers.

The body will be taken to Atlanta tomorrow morning. It will lie in state in the State Capitol until tomorrow afternoon, when it will be placed in a receiving vault to await the completion of the Jones family vault here.

DR. FUQUA DEAD.

Was Once a Prominent Physician of This City.

Mr. J. R. Embry received a telegram yesterday from Jonesboro, Tenn., informing him of the death of his uncle, Dr. Wm. M. Fuqua, which occurred Thursday evening. Further particulars were not given in the message. He had been subject to heart trouble for some time, and the presumption is that this carried him off.

Dr. Fuqua was about seventy years old. He was a resident of this city for a number of years. He was a native of Virginia and came to Kentucky soon after the war, locating for the practice of medicine near Gracey. He went to Jonesboro about four years ago to live with his daughter, as his health had been poor for some time. Dr. Fuqua was a gallant Confederate soldier. He leaves a widow, four sons and three daughters.

PUTS GAINES IN A HOLE.

Haly and Lassing Repudiate Letters Attributed to Them.

An official statement was made public Wednesday on behalf of Percy Haly categorically repudiating the letter purporting to have been signed by him which appeared recently in Noel Gaines' Crusader, and denying its authorship in so many words. Gen. Haly declares it to be a fabrication and a forgery.

An affidavit from Judge Lassing is appended, in which he says that he never received the letter in question. With these is published a statement from Denhardt Bros., of Bowling Green, denying that Gen. Haly used threats to prevent them from continuing to print the Crusader for Noel Gaines. The statements are of the most convincing character.

HAPPY JOE

Springfield, on Second Trial, Escapes the Pen.

Joe Springfield, colored, charged with shooting Elihu Dougherty, near Fairview, while officers were searching a cabin in which Springfield was spending the night, was tried and acquitted Thursday. He was tried at the last term of court and given two years in the penitentiary, but secured a new hearing. The negro had been in jail for several months, and the jury, made up entirely of white men, concluded to give him the benefit of some doubts in the testimony, and he was accordingly acquitted. He was overjoyed at his good luck, and left the courtroom the happiest negro in the county.

CARNIVAL TO CONTINUE.

BRETON LEAPING THE GAP IN HIS AUTOMOBILE.

Continuous rains during Wednesday and Thursday kept the people away from Mercer Park up to yesterday, which dawned clear and bright. A strong breeze was blowing part of the day and the mud about the grounds soon began to harden.

Of course there was no possible chance for the festival to pay expenses under the circumstances and it was necessary for the managers to devise some plan to head off the weather clerk. The only thing to be done was to continue the festival over next week. Application was made to the Mayor yesterday who agreed to lay the matter before the charged and the different acts a almost entirely new here, excepting the troupe of educated dogs, and they are really wonders.

Madam Cotrely, in her juggling and hoop rolling, has won the admiration of all who have seen her. She is par excellence the queen of her realm. Nothing seems impossible with her and she goes at her work with the assurance and nonchalance that a fellow takes his hoe and goes to digging, when one false movement of a hand or a mismeasurement of the eye must inevitably prove a failure.

The moving pictures are pronounced the best ever seen on the council at its meeting last night. The council voted unanimously to allow the privilege, and so everybody who has thus far failed to attend will have a chance next week. There are many attractions on now that were not when the festival opened. The daring act of Mons.

Breton, who leaps the gap on the automobile, though it does not take half a minute to make the descent, is watched with great interest, but all breathe more freely when he reaches terra firma and speeds away to the far end of the grounds before the automobile is brought to a stand still. This is one of the free attractions and should be seen by everybody.

He has been performing his automobile leap for two summer seasons, having made about 100 rides last year and nearly as many this year. He has exhibited in almost every prominent city in North America, from Quebec, Que., Canada, to Merida, Yuc., Mexico, and Portland, Me., to Victoria, B. C.

As before stated, the Coliseum is the biggest show on the grounds. It is worth more than the price ground and never fail to draw a crowd and draw forth rounds of merriment when the fun scenes are being shown. The transformation scene in Faust is wonderful, while Satan as pictured on the canvas is quite a good-looking fellow, but anyone can "see the devil in him" from start to finish, and at the same time they can see that he always has his way when he once gets a hold on a fellow. It is really a good sermon to the thoughtful to see this part of program.

COL. LEM M'KEE, One of the most active workers in the local N. F. U.

The two men who do the impossible on the platform, one of the free attractions, are far ahead of anything of the kind ever seen here. They seem to be a combination of springs, rubber, and everything else that produces quick movement and make more fun than half a dozen other men in their line. They are a whole team by themselves.

The two merry-go-rounds, two different tent shows, and the usual catch-penny concerns, too numerous to mention, all go towards attracting the crowds.

If you want two or three hours of fun and a relaxation from business cares, go out to the Festival.

The county fair is very nicely arranged and well filled with exhibits. There is a fine display of tobacco, and through the energy of the committee, headed by W. A. Cantrell and G. V. Green, it is a success. Everything is in fine shape and the county fair ought to receive a visit from all.

Broke His Leg.

Thos. H. Ennis, former manager of Holland's opera house, is in a hospital at Americus, Ga., with a broken leg. While lettering a business sign he fell from a building and his leg was broken in two places. His wife is with him.

DOUBLE HANGING IN LOGAN CO.

One of the Condemned Men is Guy Lyons, Alias Reynolds.

ONE CASE REVERSED.

Four White Men Were Convicted of Assault on Mover's Daughter.

The Court of Appeals this week passed upon the appeals from the Logan Circuit Court in cases of J. H. Sacra, W. R. Fletcher, Guy Lyon vs. the Commonwealth, reversing the judgment in the first named case and affirming sentences of death in the latter two. Chief Justice Hobson delivered one opinion, and Judge Nunn one in the Lyon case. The whole court considered the appeal, and Judge Settle dissented from the opinion of reversal in the Sacra case.

Fletcher and Sacra were indicted jointly with Guy Lyon and Jim Lyon for the crime of rape upon the person of Mary Gladder in May, 1905. They were convicted, and the punishment of Fletcher, Lyon and Sacra fixed at death. All questions raised on the Fletcher case were raised on the Sacra case except one. They were indicted the day after the crime was committed, and a mob sought to lynch them. Sacra was forced into trial while lying on a cot as the result of gun-shot wounds. The court says a man should not be compelled to enter upon trial for his life when there is doubt about his ability to properly conduct his defense, especially where his disability is produced by armed violence pending the trial.

Sacra has a good chance to escape with his life, as the Gladder girl and her father, German "movers," have disappeared.

Fletcher is an old man, sixty years old. Guy Lyon's real name is said to be Guy Reynolds, who figured conspicuously in the trouble at Empire in connection with the murder of R. H. Coffee.

The Governor will fix a day for the execution.

Bakery Re-opened.

Skarry's bakery will re-open to-day. This establishment has been closed since the bakery department was burned several months ago. A new stock of confectioneries will be put in, and Mr. Jack Long, the baker, expects to be ready to supply his old customers with the best of bread and cakes to-day.
